Representative Project Experience

- After it was alleged that a prominent former National Football League player had criminally defrauded the State of Washington Department of Revenue by not paying business taxes related to his health clubs, conducted an investigation into the operations of the clubs. Discovered that client's former business partner had defrauded the clubs of hundreds of thousands of dollars, causing significant cash flow deficits. Findings led to the dismissal of 30 criminal theft and fraud charges against client.
- Analyzed tens of thousands of documents and drafted a key report for a client's damages claim involving wrongdoing by their former manager. Analysis uncovered claims that were unknown to client and counsel at the beginning of the case. Provided expert witness testimony and litigation support assistance to counsel during the majority of an 8-day trial.

Representative Project Experience

- In a breach of contract matter, calculated damages to a hotelier after a failed business deal. Using financial reports from hotelier's other properties, calculated expected business income for property. Findings and analysis led to a $4 million breach of contract verdict to hotelier.
- For a large international casino and entertainment conglomerate, worked with their fraud investigation department to identify fraud prevention and detection techniques, provide internal control recommendations, and train their staff on the same.
- Conducted a fraud investigation for a successful physicians' practice after it was discovered that the long-term office manager had overpaid herself wages. Our investigation uncovered evidence of a significant, but previously unknown, cash skimming scheme in excess of $200,000. Findings were instrumental in the recovery of full payment of losses on an employee dishonesty claim.
- After it was alleged that a senior executive for a publicly traded company had falsified a signature on an expense report, an investigation was conducted. Our work uncovered a $1.4 million expense reimbursement scheme. Report and evidence presented resulted in a federal indictment and guilty plea in Federal Court.
- Served as the accountant for the Receiver in a large Washington State Receivership. Work performed included the identification and administration of more than $13 million in claims, creating and maintaining the accounting operation of a multi-million dollar shipyard, and the forensic accounting of more than 12 years of historical data to identify various claims against the Company's insiders.
- Conducted a fraud investigation for two fruit growers and warehouses after their former joint controller admitted to taking a significant sum of money. Investigation revealed the sum was much larger; findings were instrumental in the recovery of more than $1M in insurance proceeds and the conviction of the former controller in State and Federal Court.
- In a federal defense case, conducted the accounting for several years of a pharmacy's data to identify and quantify potential Medicare and Medicaid overbillings. Work performed reduced the government's alleged losses by nearly one-third, resulting in a significantly reduced sentence for the defendant.
